Waterbury Winter Storm Notice
Parking Ban

EFFECTIVE: Sunday, January 19, 2025, at 1 pm

Waterbury Parking Ban Announcement

Due to the forecasted winter storm, Mayor Paul Pernerewski has announced the activation of a snow parking ban for the City of Waterbury, effective Sunday, January 19, 2025, at 1:00 PM.

“With snow expected to begin Sunday afternoon, with accumulations between 4 and 7 inches, we ask residents to move their vehicles to the even side of the street or to a city parking garage to help our Public Works Department clear roads and ensure the safety of all residents,” said Mayor Pernerewski.

In addition to all currently posted "Snow Zones," there will be NO Parking on the odd-numbered side of all city streets. Residents are strongly encouraged to use their driveways or city parking garages instead of parking on the street.

Please be aware: Vehicles parked in snow zones or on the odd-numbered side of streets may be towed at the owner's expense.

City of Waterbury Parking Garages

- Scovill Street Garage, 33 Scovill Street
- Buckingham Garage, 210 Bank Street
